A magical experience in the jungles of Central India...

Treading softly in the Jungle...

KIPLING CAMP

Kipling Camp is the perfect destination to relax in idyllic surrounds and explore the remote forests and villages of central India. Established in 1982 on the edge of Kanha National Park by a family of conservationists, it is one of the finest wildlife camps in India with attention given to every detail.

ACCOMMODATION

Comfortable 2 to 4 room cottages, each with its own verandah, are set in acres of unspoilt jungle. There are 15 double rooms with twin or double beds and en suite bathrooms. Popular with guests is a private cottage, which has a bedroom, a sitting room and a patio overlooking the waterhole.

KANHA NATIONAL PARK

In the heart of Kipling country and one of Asia's premier wildlife reserves, Kanha is perhaps the best place in the world to see wild tigers. Guests are taken on safari in open 4WD vehicles at dawn and in the afternoon. There are excellent opportunities for wildlife photography and bird watching. In order to ensure good wildlife sightings, particularly of the tiger, a stay of at least 3 to 4 days is recommended.

ACTIVITIES

Apart from visits to the Park, guests can bird-watch around the Camp, have a relaxing massage, watch the wildlife coming to drink at the waterhole, and explore the local villages with their traditional architecture and colourful markets. At night there are film shows and tribal dances. Listening to the sounds of the jungle around a campfire, provides a perfect end to an exciting day.

TARA THE ELEPHANT

Kipling has been Tara's home since 1989. Arguably the most famous Asian elephant in the world, she is the heroine of "Travels on my Elephant". Tara is the much-loved star of the Camp. Her favourite pastime is to be bathed and scrubbed in the Banjar River.

GETTING THERE

Kipling Camp is well connected with flights to Jabalpur (a 160 km drive) and Nagpur (260 km) from Delhi, Mumbai, Pune, Bangalore, Hyderabad and Kolkata. There are also good overnight trains to Jabalpur. Kanha is also well connected to Bandhavgarh and Pench Tiger Reserves.
